Mayor George C. Brown's 2024 Budget Address

Progress is the word to describe the year 2023 for the City of Wilkes-Barre. After the first three years of my administration weathering and leading the city through COVID-19 and its economic impact and effects, 2023 finally exhibited real progress for Wilkes-Barre.

Financial progress was evidenced by the Earned Income Tax, which increased significantly and signified the improving prosperity of city residents and the expansion of city businesses. My administration has worked very hard to assist all the major employers located in the city, to maintain their presence in our community. Thankfully, two of the major employers have begun phased return of their office workers to the Downtown. Also, the Spark Program, an economic development project established with the Greater Wyoming Valley Chamber of Commerce, with $1 Million in funding from the American Rescue Plan Act has created 74 new businesses within the City.

Fiscal prudence by my administration has further assisted the City's Financial Progress:

- 2006 Bond Payment Elimination—annual savings $250,000.
- No TAN—estimated savings $150,000.
- Finalized medical insurance premium—$0 increase, estimated savings based on the national average of 6% increase—$ 420,000.
- Lowered Overtime as of July 31, 2023, savings of over $100,000.

Further, the year 2023 was highlighted by community progress. The construction of the Public Square stage and lighting has opened the Square to a multitude of events ranging from a 50th Birthday celebration attended by almost 100 people to thousands of people at The Guess Who concert in August. The construction of the Skatepark at Hollenback Park has been a great hit, in constant use, and a showcase of the City's commitment to our youth. In addition, the rehabilitation of Barney Farms Park in South Wilkes-Barre and the creation of the pickleball court and the construction of another Special Needs Playground and refurbishment of the Bog Park in Miners Mills, will continue my administration's commitment to accessible recreation facilities for the city's families.

With this firm base, 2024 will be all about the future. My administration is dedicated to developing a strong fiscal foundation and a focused eye on the City of Wilkes-Barre's future. I pledge this administration to move Wilkes-Barre forward with a direction of ideas and infrastructure supporting businesses and families well into the future.

I am proud to present this 2024 proposed balanced budget with no tax or fees increases, to City Council and the citizens of Wilkes-Barre.
